APPENDIX A

KIND-OF-BUSINESS CLASSIFICATIONS

Each establishment was assigned a kind-of-business classification based on its major activity during the census year. The kinds of business described below are arranged by major groups.

Special attention is given to those kinds of business in which classification changes have been made between the 1939 and the 1948 censuses, and in the few minor differences between definitions in the Standard Industrial Classification and Census definitions.

PERSONAL, BUSINESS, AND REPAIR SERVICES

Personal Services

This major group includes establishments primarily engaged in providing services generally involving the care of the person or his apparel, such as barber and beauty shops, cleaning and dyeing plants, laundries, photographic studios, and pressing and garment repair shops. The kinds of business classified within this group are essentially the same as those included in the Standard Industrial Classification of Personal Services, Major Group 72.

Barber shops

Establishments primarily engaged in furnishing barber services, with the exception of those shops owned by another business, and operated as a part of that business, such as a retail store or hotel. However, barber shop concessions (owned and operated independently), except concessions on trains and steamships, are included in this classification. Barber colleges are also included, providing a charge is made for services rendered by the students to the public. (The Standard Industrial Classification includes all barber colleges, regardless of whether or not service fees are charged.) In the 1939 census, independent operators renting space from a barber shop proprietor were included as separate establishments. In the 1948 census such operators were treated as employees of the individual shop from which space was rented, and the entire operations of the shop were reported as a single establishment.

Beauty shops

Establishments primarily engaged in furnishing beauty services, with the exception of those shops owned by another business, and operated as a part of that business, such as a department store, women's ready-to-wear store, or hotel. However, beauty shop concessions (owned and operated independently) in retail stores or hotels are included. Schools for the instruction of beauty shop operators are also included, providing a charge is made for services rendered by the students to the public. (The Standard Industrial Classification includes all beauty schools, regardless of whether or not service fees are charged.) In the 1939 census, independent operators renting space from a beauty shop proprietor were included as separate establishments. In the 1948 census, such operators were treated as employees of the individual shop from which space was rented, and the entire operations of the shop were reported as a single establishment.

Barber and beauty shops combined

Establishments which combine the functions of a barber shop and a beauty shop at the same site. As in the case of barber shops and beauty shops, the 1939 census included independent operators renting space from a shop proprietor as separate establishments. In the 1948 census, such operators were treated as employees of the individual shop from which space was rented, and the entire operations of the shop were reported as a single establishment.

Cleaning, dyeing plants, except rug cleaning

Plants primarily engaged in dry cleaning and dyeing apparel and household fabrics. Statistics for establishments primarily engaged in rug cleaning are included in the classification, "Rug cleaning and repairing plants." The operations of collecting and distributing units (branch outlets) owned and operated by cleaning and dyeing plants were included in the plant reports. Establishments generally known as "tailor shops" or "cleaners" are included in this classification only if they operate their own cleaning plants or units. (The Standard Industrial Classification includes establishments engaged in dry cleaning and dyeing apparel and household fabrics other than rugs, which also do laundry work, in "Power laundries.")

Rug cleaning, repairing plants

Plants primarily engaged in rug cleaning, or in rug cleaning and repairing. Establishments doing repairing only are not included in this classification but are classified in "Other repair shops."

Funeral service

Establishments primarily engaged in preparing the dead for burial and conducting funerals. Funeral service, particularly in rural areas, is frequently reported in connection with retail furniture establishments, or with other retail activities. Every attempt was made to classify such reports accurately, and to include as service establishments only those places of business primarily engaged in conducting funeral services. All revenue from the sale of caskets, burial clothing, etc., is included in service receipts rather than in sales of merchandise.

Power laundries

Establishments primarily engaged in operating mechanical laundries with steam or other power. Laundries included in this classification may perform cleaning and dyeing operations in conjunction with their major laundry operations. (The Standard Industrial Classification includes in this kind-of-business, establishments engaged in dry cleaning and dyeing apparel and household fabrics other than rugs, which also do laundry work.) Collecting and distributing units (branch outlets) owned and operated by power laundries, and industrial laundries, are also included in this classification.

Linen supply service

Establishments primarily engaged in supplying to industrial or household users such laundered linens as uniforms, aprons, table covers, and towels. Establishments included in this classification may or may not operate their own power laundry facilities. This classification does not include industrial laundries; they are included in the classification "Power laundries."

Diaper service

Establishments primarily engaged in supplying diapers and other baby linens to homes. Such establishments may or may not operate their own power laundry facilities. In the 1939 census, diaper service establishments were not separately classified, but were included in the classification "Linen supply service."

Laundries (except power)

Establishments such as "French," "Chinese," and other laundries designating themselves as hand laundries, primarily engaged in furnishing laundry services. Many of these establishments use some power-driven equipment, but not of the industrial type.

Photographic studios (except commercial photography)

Establishments primarily engaged in portrait photography for the general public. Street photographers who have no established place of business are not included in this classification. Service establishments primarily engaged in film developing or print processing are classified as "Photo-finishing laboratories." In the 1939 census, portrait and commercial photography were combined in the one classification "Photographic studios"; in the 1948 census, they are classified separately.

Establishments primarily engaged in photography for advertising agencies, publishers, and other industrial users. Service establishments primarily engaged in film developing or print processing are classified as "Photo-finishing laboratories."
